

Fun Playing.

It was midday on Sunday the 10th of January 2016. The children were not in school. Spot and Marshmallow were in school. Jane was at Korbyn's house. Spot and Marshmallow decided to go to Korbyn's house and ask Jane to go on a trip to the church with them. "I would prefer to go to Doorly Park," said Jane. "That's a great idea," exclaimed Spot. They all set off for the park.

When they arrived at the park they met Donkey and Chocolate. They all went on the rocket slide and had great fun. After that they played on the fast zip line. Next they went on the exercise equipment. Next they jumped on the small bouncy trampoline. They went to the back avenue to feed the ducks. After feeding the ducks they returned to the park. They played on the spinning wheel. "Let's play on the swings," said Jane. "That's a good idea," replied Chocolate and Donkey.

They all set off for the swings. Unfortunately Marshmallow went too high on the swings. Unfortunately he fell off and broke his nose. Lots of blood came gushing out of his nose. "Ouch!" shouted Marshmallow. Chocolate took Marshmallow to Tariq's house. Reluctantly Tariq cleaned all the blood away. All the friends got dressed up and went back to the park to play happily again.
