

Pink Dolphin

Pink dolphins live in the Amazon River in South America. They are about 2m in length. They come in different shades of pink. If the water is murky, they are pinker but if the water is clear, they are paler in colour because the sun's rays reduce the pink pigmentation.

Pink dolphins can rotate their heads 180 degrees. They eat catfish, piranha, crabs, shrimp, small fish and small turtles. They like to live in deep water. They have 130 teeth. They are afraid of boats.

When pink dolphins are excited, they flush bright pink.
